Peace of Mind Starts Here

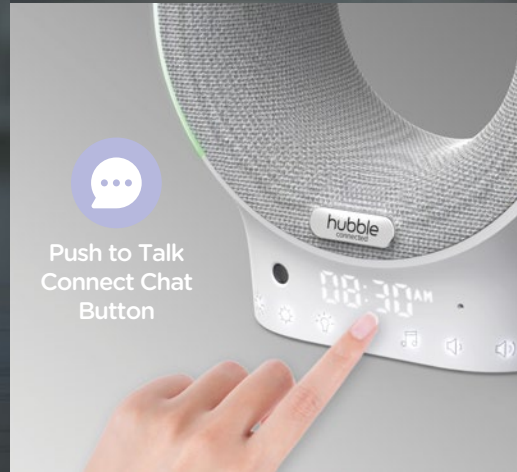

At Hubble Connected, we've been dreaming and innovating from the start. So, we know a thing or two about beginnings, which is why we're introducing the Roo, a unique prenatal product that connects you to your little one before they're even born. This acoustic, fetal heart rate monitor allows you to listen to your unborn baby's heartbeat from the convenience of your home without having to use any messy gel.

Download the Roo app to get the most out of your device and enjoy a collection of convenient features. The app automatically tracks all readings, creates reports and generates audio recordings that you can quickly share with your loved ones. Roo also comes equipped with breathing exercises and allows you to log kicks, water intake and much more.

We know how excited you are to welcome your baby to the world. With Roo, you can track their journey every step of the way. The Roo. Peace of Mind Starts Here.
